

Pir Sayyid Fazlullah Shah Rashdi (رح), also known as Pir Saeen Pak Shaheed and Sahib al-Alam al-Thani, was the Pir of Jhanda II and the eldest son of Pir Sayyid Muhammad Yasin Shah Rashdi I (رح).

After the death of his father in 1275 AH, Pir Sayyid Fazlullah Shah Rashdi (رح) assumed the role of Sajjada Nashin (spiritual leader) as the Pir of Jhanda II. He dedicated his life to guiding his community towards the path of Tawheed, free from Shirk and Bid'ah.

Due to family disputes, Pir Saeen Pak Shaheed had to relocate. He moved from Thula Sharif, Larkana, to a village near New Saeedabad, which later became known as Abreja.

Later on, Makhdoom Ghulam Muhammad (رح) provided land where Pir Saeen Pak Shaheed established a new village, which came to be known as Gowth Fadhalullah Shah Rashdi. This village eventually became known as Pir Jhando.

Martyrdom Incident:

Unfortunately, in 1287 AH, while visiting his followers in a village in Shahdadpur Tehsil, he was attacked by extremists from the Hur community due to a family feud or misunderstanding. He was assassinated while performing ablution (Wudhu), and his injuries were severe. At the age of 45, he
